How to Switch

Did you know...

Many customers have the option to choose the company that provides your electricity – not the company that delivers it, but the company that actually generates and supplies your power?

Just like shopping for car insurance or phone service, consumers can shop around to find the supplier, price and product that best fits their electric generation needs.

And the best part... it's easy!

Switching FAQs

Q. Is switching worth it?

A. Absolutely. Consider this: Cold weather can mean higher electricity usage. And the sooner you enroll, the longer you can take advantage of special pricing.

Q. What happens when I leave the electric utility? Will my power supply be interrupted?

A. No, there will be no interruption to your power supply. The process is seamless, and your reliability and service will not be affected.

Q. What are the benefits of switching energy providers?

A. Switching generation providers is one of the easiest ways to save money. And enrolling with us is quick and easy – just have a recent electric bill on hand.
